

CÉLINE CAFFOT

a) What was your V & E background before attending VENIT?

I did not have any technical background in Viticulture and Enology before VENIT. However, I have been an avocational amateur sommelier for 10 years in wine tasting, blind wine tasting and teaching about French wines to wine lovers.

b) What was your occupation before attending VENIT?

I studied chemical and process engineering in France and worked 12 years in the manufacturing industry (food and beauty packaging and feed production) mainly as quality, health, safety and environment manager in Italy and Spain.

c) What is your current occupation?

I am consultant mainly working for SIVE (Enology and Viticulture Italian society; siveonline.it) and Vinidea (vinidea.it) where I support the director in the management of innovation projects, Italian or European, in the viticulture and enology field.

d) How much did VENIT contributed to such a change?

The master VENIT has definitely been a driver for my professional change thanks to the quality of its academic proposal, both theoretical and practical, and its network that I used to find my 4 months internship in one of the best wineries of the area (La Tosa, www.latosa.it) and the consultant work in Vinidea (www.vinidea.it) and Sive (www.siveonline.it)
